

NOTE TAKING EXERCISE

Here is an example of student's notes taken from the internet. Some sentences are copied from the internet word by word.

Student's notes about sharks

"Shark's ears are inside their head. Sharks can hear sounds that are far away. Most sharks have scales. It's hard to see shark's scales as they look like very tiny teeth. So their skin feels rough a bit like sandpaper. They also have excellent hearing and can feel small vibrations in the water. They can even find animals buried in the sand. Male sharks have claspers. They have 2 lumps underneath its body. Female sharks don't have claspers. Some sharks lay eggs other have live babies. Grey nurse sharks have live babies. Shark babies are called pups. Different sharks have different kinds of teeth. Sharks have several rows of teeth."

We rewrote the above notes, put them in our own words and organized with bullet points.

Shark description

- have ears inside the head
- excellent hearing, can hear faraway sounds
- skin is rough (like sandpaper), covered with scales
- hard to see scales, look like tiny teeth
- male have claspers (look like 2 bumps underneath the body)
- some sharks lay eggs, some have live babies (grey nurse shark)
- shark babies - pups
- teeth-several rows
- different sharks-different teeth